

SOCIETY

By Bertha Hempstead

A rumored engagement that is being discussed among the friends of the young people concerned is that of Miss Agnes Hamilton of Wichita and Mr. M. G. Martling of Topeka. Miss Hamilton has lately returned to Wichita after a holiday visit to her parents in Blue Rapids, and on her way home she stopped in Topeka to visit Mrs. R. S. Brigham and Miss Helen Brigham. For a number of years she was a successful teacher in the primary department of the public schools of Manhattan, and during the summer she visited at the Martling home in Wichita, when she arranged for a position as teacher in the Wichita schools this winter.

Mr. Martling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Martling of Wichita. He was educated in the Wichita schools, and was engaged in business in that city a few years. Following an ambition for efficiency, he entered the engineering department of the State Agricultural college, Manhattan. A year later he went to Germany to continue his studies, but the declaration of war some time later made it necessary for him to return to this country, and he continued his work at Manhattan. It was during the time he was in Manhattan that he became acquainted with Miss Hamilton. Mr.

Martling now has a position with the Santa Fe Railway company in Topeka.

Bishop and Mrs. Frank R. Mills, paugh will give the annual Epiphany party tonight at the bishop's home in Polk street. The guests will include the clergymen of the parish and their wives, and the members of the vestry and their wives. The cake, which is served at the supper, contains a ring, and the woman who finds the ring is the Epiphany queen. Mrs. H. C. Kibbee drew the ring at the Twelfth Night party last year.

The company will include Bishop and Mrs. Mills, paugh, Dean and Mrs. J. P. DeB. Kaye, the Rev. Mr. George M. Gelsel, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kibbee, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ashton Smith, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Neils, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shuck, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Herbst, Mr. and Mrs. Richard White, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Denton, Mr. William Henderson, Mr. J. R. Burrow, Mr. Ralph Peterson.

The Design class of the Ceramic Art club will meet Friday afternoon with Miss Mary Wittwer.

The Travelers' club will have a guest day meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Ella Pixley, 1301 Mulvane street.

A meeting of the Topeka chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held Saturday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. John R. Shelton, 1275 Topeka avenue. It is to be one of the interesting meetings of the chapter for the season. Mrs. Shelton will address the company on "Old Colonial China," and some rare old pieces will be on display. This china to be shown is the property of Mrs. Shelton and other members of the chapter, who have been asked to send the colonial china they have in their possession.

Mrs. Morton Albaugh has charge of the music for the afternoon. Mrs. H. O. Garvey will sing a group of songs of the colonial period, and she will wear colonial costume. Mrs. Carey J. Wilson will give two piano solos.

Hostesses who will assist Mrs. Shelton are: Mrs. Ralph Skinner, Mrs. C. E. Tomlinson, Mrs. John L. White, Mrs. M. M. Miller, Mrs. J. W. Wallace, Mrs. E. E. Whitney, Mrs. Frank Klingman, Mrs. Claude E. Neill, Miss Nannie Schenck, Miss Margaret Weiss and Miss Lillian Valentine.

The Elks club will give a dancing party Friday evening for the friends of the members who took part in the minstrel show a few weeks ago and for friends of the Christmas tree committee.

The date for the wedding of Miss Ida Perrine of Trenton, N. J., and Lieut. Charles Hyder of Topeka, whose engagement has been announced, is set for Wednesday, February 16, and next.

will take place in Trinity Episcopal church at Trenton. The service will be read by the Rev. Hamilton Schuyler. Lieutenant Hyder is the son of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Hyder of Topeka.

Pink remains one of the most favored colors for evening wear, and it is especially liked in the delicate flesh and shell tints, which are flattering to almost every type of woman. Here is a lovely model of shell pink chiffon velvet, whose great beauty lies in the classic draperies of the train skirt. The latter is a conspicuous feature because of the short length of the front. White tulle composes the delicate bodice, finished with shoulder straps of French rhinestones. The corsage rose is of pink velvet.

Miss Helen McClintock was hostess at a meeting of her bridge club this afternoon at her home in Fillmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone gave an informal evening party Wednesday, in compliment to Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Kim-brough of Jackson, Tenn. Dr. and Mrs. Kimbrough, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Moore and Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Billings were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stone at dinner, and a number of other people were invited for the evening.

The Topeka Avenue club will be entertained Friday by Mrs. E. G. Foster, 811 West Sixth avenue.

One of the pretty students, after a gay holiday time, went back to her knitting at a fashionable eastern school a day or so ago. The young beau who received the greatest share of her favors during the past two or three weeks decided to prolong the joy of her society by riding with her each week along a sack of cotton. The young couple were to be shown, of course, after the fashion of the day, and the young woman's shower was due, the young woman's father and mother arrived to bid her good-by. Then, all at once, though the day was the most beautiful, the atmosphere suddenly became too frigid for the tooties of the noble band of thirty, and they went back to town with their hands in their pockets and muffs. This is the only party on record in the history of the world where chaperons were heartily welcome by as many as two of a company.

Mrs. J. G. Leopold will be hostess at a meeting of her card club Saturday afternoon.

The Mysotis club met this afternoon with Mrs. J. C. Burnett, 1100 Polk street.

Kansas Moose Leader Wants Republicans to Nominate Hughes.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 6.—Former Governor W. R. Stubbs, of Kansas, one of the seven state executives who induced Theodore Roosevelt to organize a new party, has switched from the colonel. He now picks Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes as the one man who can unite the Republican and Progressive parties and carry the country.

"Hughes is the only man who can defeat any Democratic candidate and unite the G. O. P. and Progressives," said Mr. Stubbs here. "It is said he would not accept the nomination. I don't believe he would seek it, but no man could refuse the honor if it was proffered."

Mr. Stubbs was enthusiastic over the possibility of William E. Borah or any of the other western "possibilities" being nominated. As far as Roosevelt himself is concerned, the former governor was far from optimistic.

"The conservatives would have as much objection to Roosevelt as the Progressives would to Taft," he said.

It takes but three-tenths of a second for an electric signal to pass over the 2,700 miles of an Atlantic cable.

IT WAS A SUCCESS

Secretary of Confidential Exchange Reports to the Mayor.

Approximately 1,500 Needy Persons Reached Christmas.

That there is a growing spirit of co-operation on the part of charitable agencies working in the city, and a consequent increased efficiency in their work is the statement included in the report filed with Mayor J. E. House by Miss Mabel Adams, secretary of the Confidential Exchange of Charities.

In addition to the fifteen hundred or more persons who were assisted by the various organizations working through the exchange, 42 new cases were reported by agencies during the month. Six of these are families that will require occasional help. The others are almost altogether dependent on the societies caring for them.

In her report to the mayor Miss Adams says:

"The work of the Confidential Exchange for the month of December centered around the Christmas giving. The spirit of co-operation on the part of more than thirty charitable organizations and churches and many individuals made possible the caring for more than three hundred families, ranging from two to ten in each family. This brings the total number of persons who were made happy by the workers co-operating and working through the exchange as the central office up to 1,500. The doing away of unnecessary duplication made it possible to reach many more needy people. Such duplications as did occur were the result of the refusal of the Good Fellows and Miss King to co-operate with other workers."

"The secretary spoke to a number of church clubs and societies during the month with a view of obtaining their help in making Christmas a day of happiness for children of many of our needy homes."

"The Intermediate society of the Central Congregational church gave a Christmas party for the children of the Provision day nursery. Another class of this church gave money to help make the older children of the Provision association classes have a real Christmas party. Many gifts were donated to the exchange and were given to the co-operating agencies to distribute."

"The secretary also spoke before the following clubs this month: Child Study, Federation of Colored Clubs, Alpha Assisi club."

"The past few months' work have demonstrated the usefulness of a central office for charitable work, especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The workers of the month were greatly helped by the splendid articles published by the Topeka State Journal, explaining the work of the exchange and the Christmas plan. There is a growing spirit of co-operation on the part of the workers and the work is becoming more efficient as a result of having the Confidential Exchange as a center through which to work."

No mention of the individual contributions made by hundreds of Topekan who assisted in making Christmas a day of seasonal cheer for hundreds of less fortunate residents of the city has ever been made. During the past few days, however, Miss Adams has sent at once for his new Book and Free Trial Treatment. Describe your disease. Address Dr. Franklin Miles, Dept. HE, 518 to 528 Math St., Elkhart, Ind.—Advertisement.

RIDICULES FORD

Lord Northcliffe Calls Peace Promoter "Pro-German."

"Ill Balanced, Ignorant, but Well Meaning."

In a series of articles addressed to the American public over his own signature Lord Northcliffe goes into an exhaustive analysis of the cause and prospects of the present war from a British standpoint. Of particular interest in his articles are his views reflecting conditions in America and his advice that the United States should enforce its "preparedness" program to the letter.

Incidentally Lord Northcliffe takes a passing crack at Henry Ford and his peace propaganda, declaring that England looks upon it as a "fool's errand."

Northcliffe, who is perhaps the world's greatest publisher, writes as follows in his second article, a fore-runner of which appeared in the State Journal yesterday:

"You have internal difficulties of about our side of the war. Owing to our censorship you know very little about our side of the war. Owing to the German propaganda with which your country has been deluged you are almost entirely ignorant of the German campaign."

"Ill balanced, ignorant but well meaning people like your Mr. Ford, are supposed to be typical of many in the United States, though I confess I have never met them during the many journeys I have made throughout your country."

Shot for Henry Ford.

A Frenchman said to me recently: "I wonder if Mr. Ford had been born in Lille instead of Detroit and his mother had been murdered and his sisters outraged, whether he would have been so strongly in favor of peace with Germany?" I wonder, too.

"We regard anybody who wants to make peace now before the allies are prepared as pro-German, and we will not print one line of the Ford advertisement in this country, despite the frantic efforts of his agents to secure publicity here. The point of view that premature peace is pro-German does not seem to be understood in the United States."

Personally, I doubt that the United States will really prepare for any war. There will be immense amount of talk.

as there was with us, and you will have people like our Lord Roberts preaching preparedness, but these views will be drowned in such melodies as "I didn't raise my boy," etc.

We have the German tiger where we want him and we mean to put him back in his own cage well tamed and with his fangs drawn.

Finally, the main policy of Great Britain is:

First, to keep German ships off the sea so long as a single German soldier remains in allied territory and so long as an indemnity to England, France and Russia is unpaid; and, secondly, as I mentioned in a previous statement, to enlist every available man by voluntary recruiting and compulsion.

My statement regarding compulsion was received with a howl both here and by you, but our people have adopted it even more quickly than expected.—(Copyright, 1914, by United Press.)
